Council of Municipal District of Bigstone Has Discussion Re Gravelling Pigeon Lake Roads

The annual meeting of ratepayers of the M.D. Bigstone 459 took place in the Lone Ridge hall on Saturday, Feb. 15th. At one o'clock Returning Officer O. S. Dahlman brought the meeting to order and called for the election of a chairman. On motion by one of the ratepayers, Mr. A. C. Sproule was elected to occupy the chair.

The chairman called on the secretary to read the financial statement. This occasioned considerable discussion on the financial situation of the district. The matter of the grant to the Wetaskiwin Hospital underwent considerable criticism.

Mr. E. E. Sparks was called on by the chairman to explain the Government's policy re gravelling of secondary highways. In a brief address, Mr. Sparks explained the policy and the necessary steps to be taken before any debentures could be sold to finance any gravelling scheme. After some discussion, Mr. J. R. Rickard moved that the meeting go on record as recommending to the Council that the Council get the necessary information and proceed with a scheme to gravel the Wetaskiwin to Pigeon Lake road. Reeve Arnold moved an amendment that the scheme should include the Millet to Pigeon Lake road also. On a show of hands the motion as amended was carried.

Mr. Sparks also spoke in regard to the comparison of costs between erection of snow fences and snow plowing the roads. Mr. B. S. Wallis moved that the meeting recommend to the Council that the Council purchase a snow plow to be used with the 60 Caterpiller tractor. This motion was carried.

Some discussion took place in regard to the Council not furnishing poll clerks at Municipal elections. It was decided that $6.00 per day was thought sufficient to allow any deputy returning officer to hire his own poll clerk if he thought it necessary.

At 4 p.m. Returning Officer O. S. Dahlman declared nominations for the office of Councillor closed and summed up the nominations as follows:

Div. No. 1, C. J. Hanson; Div. No. 4, A. P. Ewart, H. G. Krause and Herman Strohschein; Div. 5, A. E. Dowdell, T. H. Howes and Herman Arnold. Returning Officer declared C. J. Hanson elected by acclamation for Div. No. 1. Messrs. Dowdell and Howes withdrew their names and returning officer declared Herman Arnold elected by acclamation for Div. No. 5.

The friends of Mrs. James Waring regret to learn that she is quite ill.

New Hospital Scheme Is Live Topic at the Annual Meeting of Mun. Dis. Montgomery

The annual meeting of the Municipal District of Montgomery was held in the U.F.A. Hall on Saturday afternoon last, with a large number of ratepayers in attendance.

Richard Ballhorn was chosen as chairman, and after a few preliminary remarks he called upon Godfrey Baker, the secretary-treasurer, to present the financial statement for the year 1929. The statement was adopted by the meeting, after which Richard Ballhorn, reeve, addressed the gathering at considerable length, referring to the work of the Council during the past year and to some of the questions which will likely be brought before the Council this year. One of the biggest problems will be the proposed new Municipal Hospital and he urged the ratepayers to give this matter very serious consideration before casting their ballot, as he was of the opinion that if the vote was favorable it would have the effect of increasing the taxes on every quarter of land in the hospital district to a much higher amount than is already being paid. In fact, in answer to a question, Mr. Ballhorn stated there was no limit to the amount of taxes which might be levied on a quarter if the proposed hospital scheme is accepted by the ratepayers. A new hospital was a necessity, but he thought it should be built by the City of Wetaskiwin, the Municipal District of Montgomery and the Municipal District of Bigstone, as the other areas included in the hospital district were too far away. Another objection he had to the hospital scheme was that the ratepayers in the M.D. of Montgomery would be assessed a much higher rate proportionately than the other districts, as the land was more valuable. The Old Age Pension Act would also have the effect of increasing the taxation in the district. The Council this year, as well as subsequent Councils, must exercise the greatest caution to keep the taxes down, as if they got too high the value of the land in the district would depreciate, as it has done in some of the states across the line.

C. Kerry, Weed Inspector, read a report showing that the weed menace was not as bad in the Municipality as it was a year or two ago, and he urged the farmers to do all in their power to assist in keeping the noxious weeds down to the minimum.

It was suggested that the Councillors of the different divisions be asked to attend the U.F.A. locals from time to time and discuss the matter of roads and other municipal problems.

A resolution was unanimously passed thanking the reeve, councillors and other officials for the satisfactory manner in which they had performed their duties during the past year.

Mr. Kerry, returning officer, announced that V. E. Thompson and Lee Bussard had been re-elected by acclamation as councillors of their respective divisions, and that there would be an election in Division 2, as C. A. Johnson and W. F. Elkerman had been nominated as councillors for that division The election takes place on Saturday of this week, at the Haultain school house.

[We would draw attention to the statements of Mr. Ballhorn respecting the proposed hospital, which were misleading. The facts are that there are twenty municipal hospitals in Alberta today, serving more than fifty per cent of the rural population, and not a single one of them, to our knowledge, is charging more than three cents per acre on the average quarter section or more than three mills assessed value on any quarter. The Minister of Health would not approve of any hospital scheme which provided for a higher rate of taxation than three cents per acre on the average quarter section.—Editor.]

Adult Education and Its Possibilities in the Radio Subject of Kiwanis Talk

Professor Corbett, of Extension Department of University of Alberta Principal Speaker at Luncheon—Assistance Given to Boy Scout Movement

Prof. Corbett, of the extension department of the University of Alberta, was the principal speaker at the Kiwanis luncheon on Tuesday evening, and there was a large attendance of members to enjoy the very interesting and enlightening address. The professor took as his subject "Adult Education and its possibilities by means of the Radio." Alberta is further advanced in radio education than any other province or state on the continent, and the work is growing rapidly. In 1912 the Alberta University went ahead with the scheme of endeavoring to educate the adult through the department of extension —or taking the university back to the people. Prof. Ottewell was the first man in charge of this work and he laid the foundation well. Today there are three hundred travelling libraries which go to the obscure parts of the province. Films are developed and include the finest and best scenes in the Dominion of Canada. The department now have talking moving pictures which are shown to hundreds of children who never saw moving pictures until shown them by the University. The demand for University films in the outlying districts is rapidly increasing. Large supplies of lantern slides are also used as a means of education. Lectures and about 700 films are sent out to preachers, U.F.A. locals and others, and are in great demand. Five years ago the extension department began broadcasting through CJCO, and have always been able to furnish a good program of classical music and interesting lectures without cost. Now the department has a 500 watt station and can get the best talent in Edmonton. In England the radio is under the post office department and programs are given to 4,000,000 adults and 500,000 children by the British Broadcasting Association. The U.S. also realized the importance of radio education, but it is handled by commercial corporations. For years the best programs received in Canada came from the U.S., but now Canada has the opportunity, as the Royal Commission has recommended that the federal government establish seven fifty million watt stations in Canada, and operated by the provinces, which means that all private stations would be forced out of business. This would be a good thing for Canada as it would unite and establish within ourselves a national spirit and help maintain our national standards and ideals. It would then be possible for the boys and girls to stay home and get the equivalent of a university education in five years, and there would be receiving sets in all the schools in the land, where the best artists and lecturers could be heard.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the directors, that a grant of $75 be made to assist in financing the work of the Boy Scout movement.

Mrs. McMurdo was pianist for the occasion and Stewart Campbell rendered a solo and encore in fine voice and very effectively.

Ladies' night will be March 11th, and Kiwanians J. E. Fraser, H. R. French and H. E. Chalmers have charge of the program arrangements.

Municipal Hospital Scheme and Weed Menace High Lights Annual Meeting M. D. Columbia

The annual meeting of ratepayers was held in the Municipal Office at Battle Lake on February 15th, and the weather being nice and fine a large number attended.

Mr. J. E. Bunney, Returning Officer, called the meeting to order at 1 p.m. and Mr. W. B. Fullerton (reeve) was elected to preside.

Mr. Fullerton asked the ratepayers to consider and discuss the proposed Municipal Hospital scheme, as they would be called upon to vote on this very important movement in the near future. Mr. Fullerton stated he had been appointed to the Provisional Board and outlined the work done so far, and read a letter from Mr. Prest of Wetaskiwin, which gave details of the working of the Act and cited figures as to the estimated cost to ratepayers and the benefits to be derived from having a hospital of their own, which would be fully modern and equipped to take care of the needs of the proposed district.

Mr. O. J. Ayers, Weed Inspector of the Municipal District, gave an interesting talk on the weed problem and made an appeal for the co-operation of the ratepayers. He explained that the district was visited by a weed inspector for the first time in the year just closed and during his inspections he located small patches of noxious weeds on a large number of fields, and he had been very well pleased with the way the ratepayers had received his visits and by the way action had been taken to control the weeds when it was found out that they had them. Mr. Ayers read letters from non-resident ratepayers whom he had notified, and gave instances where benefit was already showing from the action of the Council in appointing an inspector and the efforts made by the Field Supervisors of the Department. It was too soon yet to notice much improvement, but by continually keeping at it and all hands doing their part, he thought that much could be accomplished, and he urged that the people give the weed problem their best attention, as it was for the benefit of all to have clean fields and no weeds.

The following resolution was read by an elector of Division No. 6:

"Resolved, that we, the Electors of Div. 6 of M.D. 460, demand a full detailed statement of the exenditure of the Public Works account, showing on which roads the items were spent, also the names of the persons doing the work for the year 1929, and in future to be given in the annual statement.

The Secretary-Treasurer explained that insofar as the annual financial statement was concerned, the resolution could not be complied with, the auditor's financial statement being in a prescribed form and which obtained throughout all Municipal Districts in Alberta, but if the meeting saw fit to pass the resolution he would give the sponsors the full particulars asked for.

The resolution carried.

The Treasurer then went through the pay sheets and gave the movers of the resolution the particulars asked for.

Nominations for Councillors were called for, the time being 3 p.m., and at 4 p.m. the Returning Officer declared the nominations closed.

Enoch Johnson and Emil Anderson were nominated for Div. 2, and D. Nicholson and Charles B. Ladd for Div. 6, C. E. Bengtson for Div. 1.

The Returning Officer announced that a poll would be taken on February 22nd at Seattle Schoolhouse for Division 3 and at Modeste Valley Schoolhouse for Division 6. Mr. Bengtson was declared elected by acclamation for Div. 1 and the meeting adjourned.

COMMEMORATE INDIAN CHIEFS IN PLACE-NAMES

Georgraphical features named after Indian chiefs are numerous in Canada. It is exactly 100 years since the first appearance on a map of the name Petawana. According to the records of the Geographic Board of Canada, Petawawa river occurs on a map made in 1829 by Colonel John By, who built the Rideau canal. The name is now also applied to the military camp on the Petawawa river in Renfrew county, Ontario. The Indian chief, Petawawa, is said to have hunted in the region and the meaning of the name is "the sound coming" or "approaching sound." In some cases an Indian has been commemorated by a name given him by the whites. There are several examples of this nature in New Brunswick, where Barnaby river, Bartibog river, Cain river and Taxis river bear the names of Indian chiefs who once lived on these streams. In Quebec the town of Donacona recal's the "Lord of Canada," who was taken to France by Jacques Cartier in 1536 and died there. In Manitoba, Peguis post office takes its name from a Saulteaux chief, who, in 1835, was granted an annuity of £5 by the Hudson's Bay Company. He was a friend of the colonists of the Red River Settlement (Winnipeg) and well disposed towards the whites. In Saskatchewan, Cutknife hill, according to tradition, commemorates a Sarcee who was killed on it in battle with a Cree. In Alberta, Crowfoot village, Mekasto railway station, and Chiniki lake are a tribute to the worth of Indian chiefs who on the coming of white men ceded their title to vast acres and foresook tribal warfares. Crowfoot, head chief of the Blackfeet, was a keen business man, not a warrior, who kept his tribe at peace with the whites. Mekasto, or Red Crow, head chief of the Southern Bloods, was loyal throughout the 1885 rebellion. Chiniki was a Stoney Indian chief. Kananaskis pass in the Rockies commemorates an Indian who made a wonderful recovery from the blow of an axe. Pouce-Coupe river in Alberta and British Columbia bears the name of a Beaver Indian chief who settled on the river with 500 followers. The name is French for "cut thumb." In British Columbia, Kinbasket lake, an expansion of the Columbia river, was so named in 1866 by Walter Moberly, C.E., after a Shuswap Indian chief who was of service to him on an exploratory trip. Nicola lake commemorates an Indian chief whose other name, Nwistermekin, meaning "walking grizzly bear," well describes his character.

TOO MANY SNOW SHOVELERS?

A speaker at a largely attended vocational conference for boys recently announced that he wanted someone to clean his sidewalks of snow, and that he would pay one dollar to get the work done. When he asked all who would take the job to raise their hands, some 500 responded with alacrity.

"Unfortunately, I have only one house," commented the speaker, "so the chances of any of you cleaning my sidewalks are about 1 in 500. But I also need some help in installing electric fixtures in accordance with the building regulations. What boy is qualified for that job?" Only one hand went up.

"Well," concluded the expert, "we seem to have a big army of snow shovelers, but only a lone general for my chandelier. I advise that more of you boys train yourselves for jobs where there is greater opportunity and perhaps better pay."

The vocational gentleman is undoubtedly right. Moreover, his point can be still futher extended. For example, too many unqualified young men and women are being trained for the career of journalism, always a limited field and offering a reward not always commensurate with the energy expended. Too many youths want to be artists, lawyers, all white-collar occupations long respected and widely acclaimed, but not more important in the economy of living than those of less showy engineers, technicians, salesmen, secretaries, merchants, garage men, provisioners. Each of these is representative of a useful and honorable trade, though perhaps one not so glamorously advertised. The primary points, therefore, are first, that young people be trained, and, secondly, that their training be judiciously and wisely chosen.—Christian Science Monitor.

WOES OF A SECRETARY

VALUE OF EDUCATION AND ORGANIZATION TO ALBERTA FARMERS

On Saturday afternoon, February 8, a meeting was addressed at Gwynne hall, by Carl Axelson, of Medicine Hat, on the value of education and organization as a means toward improving conditions among our farming population. He stressed the fact that we are living in a highly competitive age, and to enable ourselves to compete, on anything like an equality, with other parts of our social system, we must learn the value of organization. When we compare ourselves with our forbears, we find that conditions have changed considerably since the time when the individual was a self-sufficient unit, until today, when the individual standing alone, cannot hope to make much progress, and is sooner or later forced to join with others to enable them to advance their common interests. It is a wellknown fact that our farmers, as a class, work longer hours and get less for their labor, than any other group of workers, and though there are outstanding individuals who become financially independent, the large majority are never able to strike a balance, with the result, that our farming population are fast becoming tenant farmers. Vast fortunes are being built up by some individuals (not farmers), while the farmer, who creates by far the greater part of the wealth, especially in our Canadian West, is too often forced to give up the struggle and accept financial dependence as a more or less permanent condition. The only real remedy for this condition is organization, and to supplant competition by co-operation, and for the farmers themselves, to wake up and take a real live interest in their existing organizations, such as the U.F.A. and the several commodity pools. One only has to use common horse-sense, to realize that this is the only way in which we can hold our place in a highly organized society, as otherwise we throw the whole machine out of balance. It is to the interest of all, especially here in the West, that the farmers should prosper, otherwise the whole community will suffer, as is being abundantly proven at the present time. There are a certain class who farm the farmer and who prosper on the unfair proportion of the result of his labor, which they manage to appropriate, but fortunately, they are very much in the minority, and the public in general are glad to see the farmer succeed, as that means prosperity for all legitimate business.

Farmers of Alberta, you have shown by your success in the various pools and in the political field, that you are able to accomplish much, so get together and work for better conditions in our province in the future.

THE ALMANAC

(By Walt Mason)

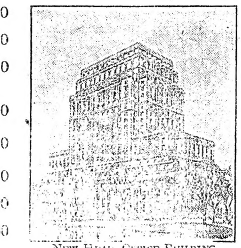

When I look back along the track that I have trod, and can't retrace, I well recall the almanac that always had it's honored place. It came along on New Year's day, or thereabouts, to cheer our souls, with jokes and wisecracks blithe and gay, and scientific rigmaroles. It had a yellow cover then, a sort of dull and bilious hue, and there were pictures there of men whose works were all exposed to view. It told for weeks and months ahead the sort of weather we would draw, and we believed the things it said, it was the gospel and the law. Our fathers [illegible] almanac to find out if it would be wise to try to get to town and back, perhaps some grievous storms would rise. And if the yellow book decreed the weather would be calm and fair, to town we'd joyfully proceed, behind old Kit, the [illegible] And if a blizzard spoiled our [illegible] and stalled us, far from home [illegible], the almanac was not to blame, but Providence had crossed [illegible] The faith we had in almanacs [illegible] hard to understand, now that we older, wiser wax, with bounteous books on every hand. My uncle [illegible] one night as sound [illegible] any gent, fit for a frolic or [illegible] without a blemish or a dent. [illegible] almanac a while and then he [illegible] and shed some tears; "I [illegible]" he said, "I'm full of bile, I [illegible] in my ears. And I have [illegible] the meat, and else [illegible] I find that I am [illegible]. I've captured [illegible]" From [illegible] he'd talk of [illegible] and sought, regardless of the [illegible], for something new in [illegible].

NEW HEAD OFFICE BUILDING

Rate of Interest earned on mean invested assets 7.02%

The high rate of dividends allotted to participating policyholders is continued and the special dividend on maturing policies extended and increased.

EXTRACTS FROM DIRECTORS' REPORT

New policies paid for numbered 161,5[illegible] for a net amount of $654,[illegible]51,14[illegible].27, an advance of [illegible]752.36, or more than forty-eight per cent., over the previous year. This marked [illegible] that the average policy, for the first time, [illegible] $4,000, affords impressive evidence of the [illegible] growing popularity of the Company.

After deducting am[illegible] the total assurances in force amount to $2,401,[illegible], an increase of $504,321,102.37. This advance is notable not merely for its magnitude, but because when allowance is made for terminations by death and maturity, it represents a remarkably high rate of continuance, and evidences great satisfaction on the part of our policyholders.

The amount paid to policyholders since organization, together with the amount at present held for their security or benefit, exceeds the total amount received from them in premiums by $1[illegible].

The rate of interest earned on the mean invested assets has risen to 7.02 per cent. This [illegible] a certain amount from bonuses and stock privileges accruing on many of the Company's holdings. If these were entirely eliminated the rate would still be 6.60 per cent.

A net profit of $13,077,284.62 was realized from the redemption or sale of securities.

The surplus earned during the year, based on the values entered in the accounts, amounted to $[illegible],863,578.59, but from this sum substantial appropriations have as usual been made to further strengthen the position of the Company.

An additional $10,000,000.00 has been deducted from the market values of our securities as a provision against possible market fluctuations, raising the amount thus set aside for this purpose in the accounts to $30,000,000.00.

A further $1,000,000.00 has been written off the Company's buildings.

$931,000.00 has been appropriated to raise the annuity reserves to the Rutherford table of valuation, with interest at 3½ per cent. This exacting standard requires reserves $2,656,000.00 in excess of those of the Dominion Government standard.

$1,200,000.00 has been set aside as additional provision for claims arising from total disability, death claims as yet unreported, and possible claims under cancelled policies on which a surrender value or reinstatement might be applied for.

$22,606,265.67 has been paid or allotted as profits for the year to policyholders.

The special amount entered as a liability to provide for unforeseen contingencies has been maintained at $12,500,000.00.

After making all these deductions and allocations, $[illegible] has been added to the undivided surplus, bringing the total over liabilities, contingency account and capital stock, to $60,307,762.44.

In accordance with our usual conservative practice the securities owned by the Company have again been valued at figures much below the market quotations current at the close of the year. This undervaluation represents an important element of strength to the Company additional to the specific provisions in the statements.

Your Directors are pleased to announce that the high scale of profits at present allotted to participating policyholders will be continued during the ensuing year, while the Special Dividend on maturing policies, [illegible] last year, has been extended to include policies maturing after having been in force five years or longer and the scale of benefit has been [illegible].

The business of the Company has always been conducted under the exacting provisions of the Canadian Insurance law and the rigid supervision of the Insurance Department of the Government of Canada. Ever since we entered the United States in 18[illegible], the Company has been under similar supervision there and is now subject to the regulations of thirty-eight States of the Union which require periodical examination of the affairs of all companies licensed in their territory. In the discharge of their regular duties a committee of twenty-two examiners, representing the States of Michigan, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Ohio, Tennessee, Washington, Virginia, West Virginia, Florida and the District of Columbia recently completed an exhaustive examination into every department of the Company's affairs. The report of this committee makes gratifying reference to the liberal treatment accorded to our policyholders, and provides authoritative testimony to the Company's strength. Even after [illegible] the low valuations placed by us on our securities, the committee still reported a surplus at the close of last year $1,333,921.71 in excess of the figure claimed by the Company.

WHY NOT U.S. HONEY?

During the [illegible] approached by the Alberta Development Board for their support in a campaign designed to influence consumers in favor of "Made in Alberta" products. The campaign is a worthy one, and the Alberta Development [illegible] a very attractive container and we would call that organization's attention to the inconsistency displayed [illegible] one of Alberta's leading producers.

While at breakfast this morning, we reached for the honey jar. It was a very attractive container and we confess a liking for honey—good honey; the kind that is produced in Alberta by the Riddell people. And that little glass jar of honey was purchased in preference to other brands because it was produced in Alberta.

But imagine one's chagrin when a glance at the label disclosed the fact that it was "Printed in U.S.A." There are a hundred printing plants in Alberta which might have produced that label and improved upon its design, but the producer who is catering to the Alberta consumer steps across the international border and buys a foreign label to advertise his product, which he hopes to sell in the home market.

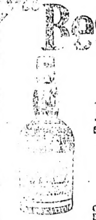

Straws point which way the wind blows and this little incident is but a sample of the inconsistency of many Canadian manufacturers when it comes to purchasing labels, wrappers and containers. And now, can we be criticized if we are converted to the use of United States honey?—Hanna Herald.

LARGE HOUSE HEARS CONSERVATIVE LEADER IN EDMONTON

Filling the First Presbyterian church with a capacity audience on Thursday night, Edmonton citizens listened with close attention and interest to the policy of the Conservative party in Canada expounded in masterly style by its leader, Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, P.C., K.C., M.P. Speaking at length and with animation, he described the present situation of the country, with unemployment rife, agricultural production and exports diminishing vastly, overseas countries placing a ban on the purchase of Canadian wheat, millions of dollars being spent in bringing butter, cheese and eggs into the country—carrying coals to Newcastle—thousands of Canadians leaving the Dominion annually to seek the jobs elsewhere that they could not find here—and offered the imposition of a system of protective tariffs as the means of elevating Canadian industry and commerce into a place of security and prosperity and to provide employment for her people.

"Nothing unreasonable, nothing fancy," said Mr. Bennett, "no exploitation, just enough to give our people an equal chance with the outside world. Our opponents have been trying to convey the idea that I mean high tariffs. They would have you believe that I want exploitation. What would the Conservatives do if we went into power tomorrow? At our first session, without any secret reservations, we would meet and pass legislation that would give Canadians an equal chance." He challenged the audience to say that a change in the situation could be brought about without an alteration in the tariff policy, with the United States occupying its present position in regard to commercial relations with the Dominion.

In the earlier stages of his address Mr. Bennett charged the present government with inconsistency, and asked his hearers what they thought of leaders who changed from day to day merely to keep in power. Their action in this respect was a challenge to the basis of democratic government. He warned his hearers that democratic government was not firmly established throughout the world, it had been overthrown in Italy and Spain, and to take up the attitude that he had described was to threaten its foundation. He contended that Premier King had described the giving of grants to the provinces for the purpose of highways, technical education and agriculture as nothing but a vicious system, yet here they had him taking credit for the old-age pension scheme under which the federal government contributed half the cost and the provinces the other half.

Referring to the attitude of the government upon the question of the northern railways, and the credit they were claiming for their development, the speaker said that in April, 1927, when a motion was brought before the house advocating that a complete survey be made of the northern railways situation, and an outlet from the Peace River country be considered without delay, it was opposed by the government. The reason given then by the government was that they did not want to commit themselves to any conditions.

Referring to the ex-service men, Mr. Bennett said that in August 1927, he had moved in the house that the Pensions Act be amended so that men who had been overseas and had developed disabilities [illegible] to [illegible] vice. This was opposed by Premier King and Mr. Stewart. Today, because Sir Arthur Currie had said to the Legion at Regina that this condition should be observed, Mr. King had said, "That's what we are going to do."

Turning to the question of the natural resources, Mr. Bennett said that 25 years ago in Edmonton he had raised his voice against the withdrawal of the natural resources from the province and said that a province was not a province if it did not own them. Yet today the party that had denied to the western provinces this right, was taking pride and flattering itself as those who had given the resources to Alberta and Saskatchewan. Today in a moment of weakness the government had placed Alberta and Saskatchewan in a place of equality with the older provinces. He was glad they had seen the light, but he and the party he stood for, had always argued that the provinces could not be on an equality with the others unless they owned them.

Proceeding, Mr. Bennett said: "We are the richest country in the temperate zone of the world. We have millions of fertile acres, great fisheries, lumber, minerals, railways, yet think of the thousands of people who must go hungry to bed tonight because they have no job.

"Seasonable unemployment in the north temperate zone is unavoidable, but in all the cities of the country we have never had unemployment as we have it now. From Vancouver to the east I find it in every city, how many are there in Edmonton tonight that just want a chance to work. When we have a country like this, with all these great riches, there must be something wrong if they cannot work. Unless you provide men and women with employment you cannot have them happy and contented. These things are essential if we are going to develop a great race and country."

Continuing, Mr. Bennett said that the basis of the country was agriculture. Last year exports were sold to the value of $1,182,000,000, of which $500,000,000 were made up of agricultural products. They were the basis of new wealth, created from the resources of the country. He asked his audience, however, to name one thing that the government had done to assist in creating that $580,000,000 of new wealth. They had been reading the statements made in the press concerning the banning of Canadian wheat overseas. These statements were not true, yet nevertheless what did the government do to answer them? Nothing; yet the country depended upon agriculture. It was said that a campaign was being waged against the use of Canadian wheat, yet the government left the three western provinces to wage battle with a harmful propaganda.

"Is that your conception of a national government?" asked Mr. Bennett, "if so, it is not mine." When you have to deal with a matter like this you have to think in terms of the Dominion as a whole. Yet in spite of the peril nothing was done, and when the three provinces themselves took up the question it was found to be false."

"What has the government done to create new wealth," again asked the speaker, and he pointed out that France had raised the duty on Canadian wheat to 73 cents, and Germany was imposing a duty of six cents more per bushel on wheat from Canada than it did on wheat from the United States. Had the government done anything about it? Yet Mr. Malcolm said: "We are extending our foreign markets."

So on all hands Canadian markets were being destroyed, and Canadian wheat was no longer finding a market in France, Italy or Germany, and the government had made this possible. Mr. Bennett then referred to the decrease in the sale of meat products from $37,000,000 in 19[illegible] to $15,550,000 in 1929, and [illegible] in purchases from outside [illegible] 600,000 pounds of butter [illegible] last year, compared with the sale of 25,000,000 pounds some few years ago. Yet Premier King was responsible for the signing of the treaty that gave New Zealand better a preference in the Dominion. The dairy industry was being destroyed, yet a few days ago Mr. Crerar at Brandon said that farmers must get rid of the wheat complex and go into dairy farming.

He then drew attention to the export of wood pulp from Canada to the States, and brought back and sold here as paper.

Last year the prime minister when at Edmonton told his audience that Canada had a favorable trade balance. The country was second only to New Zealand. Yet at the very time he made the statement an unfavorable trade balance had been accumulating [illegible] ten months. In that time [illegible] amounted to one thousand one hundred and eighty-two millions, and the country purchased goods to the value of one thousand two hundred and ninety-eight millions, which [illegible] that one hundred and sixteen millions more were bought than sold. Out of the one thousand two hundred and ninety-eight millions, three hundred millions went to the United States, and he ventured to say that out of this sum three hundred millions worth of products could have been originated in Canada, and helped to give employment to those who were only too willing to work. During the last nine years 800 000 Canadians had let the Dominion to seek jobs in the United States that they could not find here. This was not a thing of high or low tariffs, but a matter of business, whether they are going to have Canadians leave the country to live under another flag.

URGE REDUCTION IN CAR LICENSE FEE IN ALBERTA

Decision to request the provincial government to decrease the license fees was reached at the regular meeting of the provincial executive of the Alberta Motor Association held in the Macdonald hotel, Edmonton, on Saturday.

After considerable discussion, a resolution was passed asking for a substantial reduction in license fees, the officials declaring that these fees were much too high at the present time.

The meeting sanctioned the publication of a small, pocket size folder in which the names of all emergency service garages in the four Western provinces would be inscribed.

Arrangements are now being completed to continue publicity in a more organized form in 70 newspapers in the province of Alberta, and further work in this connection will be done by the executive, the meeting decided.

The meeting went on record as strenuously opposing the proposed armed guard at the international border, claiming that incoming tourists would be affected if this was put into effect by the United States government.

It was agreed to supply weather and road information during the tourist season, compiled from 80 points in the province, to all official garages, service stations, hotels, and autoinobile clubs in Canada and the United States, daily.

At the conference held last November by officials of the motor clubs of the four Western provinces it was agreed that the official organ of all four clubs be consolidated into one. This is to be published by the executive of the Alberta Motor Association "Good Roads," magazine. This consolidation was announced Saturday to take effect in the April issue.

It was decided that a deputation be appointed within a short time to interview the provincial government requesting them to completely mark the main highways in the province.

Chest Colds Need Direct Treatment

It is an obstinate cold indeed that can resist the direct double action of Vicks. Rubbed on the chest, it acts 2 ways at once:

(1) Direct to air passages with its healing vapors released by body heat;

(2) Direct, like a poultice, it "draws out" the soreness.

M.D. COLUMBIA HOLDS LAST MEETING FOR YEAR 1929

A meeting of the Council of M.D. Columbia 460, was held in the Municipal Office, Battle Lake, on Saturday, February 8, with the following in attendance: Councillors C. E. Bengtson, J. Mann, E. Johnson, W. B. Fullerton and A. Gilbert.

After minutes of last meeting were adopted, the monthly financial statement was read by the Secretary and examined and signed by the Reeve.

J. A. Haligren of Winfield., asked for Council's approval to his application for a restaurant license for premises in Winfield. Approval was granted.

There was read an application from Mr. O. J. Ayers of Mulhurst, for position as weed inspector. Mr. Ayers was appointed for year 1930 at a salary to be set later.

Letter from Benj. Lawson, chief fire inspector, asking that the fires burning in the ground be given attention while conditions were favorable, as owing to the very dry fall some fires were still burning. Secretary was instructed to advise Mr.. Lawson that the Council had such fires located and under supervision and that action would be taken when necessary to prevent spreading.

A claim from the C.P.R. for compensation for area taken for road diversion in Sec. 3-46-1, W. 5, land controlled by the Company, was read. Blue print of the survey was produced by the secretary showing area of diversion to be 6.54 acres. The treasurer was instructed to pay the C.P.R. Co. for the area taken.

J. H. Walker of Wetaskiwin, was appointed auditor for 1930.

The agent of Dominion Lands wrote that application had been made by parties in the vicinity of the small fraction of land in Sec. 20-47-1, W. 5 to acquire same by purchase, and a report from an inspector of his office indicated that it should be reserved for a public camp site for settlers and the Department decided to give the Municipality an opportunity of procuring this land for such purposes. It was moved by Mr. Gilbert that the matter be left over until next meeting in order that an opportunity for inspecting the site could be given Council. Carried. Mr. Gilbert was appointed to look into the matter and to report at next meeting.

Robt. Wood and Carl Johnson asked for permission to cut and remove timber from certain lands owned by the municipality. Moved by Mr. Fullerton "That we dispose of the timber (excepting tamarack) on the S. W. ¼ 28-46-2, W. 5 to Robt Wood, and also the timber on N.E. ¼ 20-46-1 W. 5 to Carl Johnson, for the sum of $3.00 per M.B.M. The purchasers to submit a statement of the amount sawn from the sawmill owner cutting same, Carried.

The J. & J. Taylor Co. advised that the new safe purchased from them had been shipped on February 3rd to Wetaskiwin. Moved by Mr. Bengtson "That Mr Fullerton be instructed to arrange to have the safe delivered to the Municipal Office upon arrival at the Wetaskiwin depot.

The Attorney-General's Department advised that an allowance of $20 per month under the Mothers' Allowance Act to Mrs. Mary Green of Yeoford, had been approved of by the Minister.

Discussion as to whether it would be desirable to have the annual meeting of ratepayers in the Municipal Office instead of the church at Battle Lake, took place. Moved by Mr. Fullerton "That the annual meeting be held in the Municipal Office and that a notice be posted up at the church notifying the public of the change."—Carried.

The accounts presented for payment were read and passed.

The next meeting will be the first meeting after an election, and is set by the Act to be held on the 13th day of March at the place and hour fixed for regular meetings.

HEAVY DAMAGE IN MARITIMES FOLLOWS STORM

Halifax, Feb. 17.—Heavy damage, particularly in Cape Breton Island, was being surveyed in the Maritime provinces today following a severe snowstorm that swept Nova Scotia from Cape Sable to Cape North, and also struck hard at Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick.

Nova Scotia was lashed for fifteen hours by gales with a force of fifty miles an hour. Bitter weather accompanied the storm. It was four below zero here early today. All the telephone and telegraph lines to Cape Breton were out of order. Advices indicated the loss of the fishermen's storehouses and gear was the heaviest damage there.

Other damage consisted of disrupted train schedules, roofless buildings, several demolished structures, fallen chimneys and derailed tram cars and a locomotive.

The wind was strong enough to flatten a concrete transformer house at New Aberdeen, tear off a church roof and hurl it through the side of a nearby dwelling, and blow a small store from a wharf to the deck of a schooner in Sydney harbor.

In Annapolis doctors resorted to skis in order to attend their patients.

EXCELLENT TUXIS "FATHER AND SON" BANQUET HELD

The Tuxis Square held their annual "Father and Son" banquet in the United church on Friday, February 14th. About thirty Fathers and Sons sat down together

The banquet was provided by the boys and served by Mesdames Vars, Williamson, MacAllister, East and Elliott. The tables were beautifully adorned with the Tuxis colors and daffodils. The menu was very elaborate, most dainty and greatly enjoyed by all.

The "after-dinner" program was ably presided over by the Praetor Goron East, with Mrs. Ashbridge at the piano. It consisted of a very hearty sing-song, two amusing stunts by the Mentor, Ralph Pethybridge, and the following toasts:

"The King," proposed by Gordon East and responded to by the National Anthem; "Our Dads," by Alex Vars and Dr. McColgan; "Tuxis," by Harold East and Mr. Millin; "The Sunday School," by Fred Lord and Mr. Finch; "The eChurch," by Alistair Elliott and Rev. A. L. Elliott; "Our Mothers," by Osborne Williamson and Mrs. East.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the ladies who served, by Harold East. The function was closed with the Omaha Tribal Prayer.

The annual church service for the Tuxis Square was held on Sunday morning, when almost a capacity congregation assembled for worship. A very beautiful responsive service was used entitled "Meditation." Nellie Bidinger sang a solo and the Junior Choir an anthem. Addresses on different phases of the C.S.E.T. program were given by Alex Vars, Osborne Williamson, Gordon East and Mr. Pethybridge.

The church was very appropriately decorated in the Tuxis colors, purple and white, and daffodils. The Tuxis shields and C.S.E.T monogram were made for the occasion by Mr A. B. Lord.

C.P.R. HAS EXTENSIVE BUILDING PROGRAM FOR COMING YEAR

Montreal, Feb. 13.—More than $50,000,000 will be expended on new equipment, new branch line construction and improvement to existing equipment and roadbed by the Canadian Pacific Railway during 1930, according to an announcement by E. W. Beatty, Chairman and President of the Canadian Pacific Railway. "Firm in the conviction that Canada will continue its steady and unhurried progress during the present year the Directors of the Company approved of this impressive program of improvements and extensions;" Mr. Beatty said when emphasizing that the scope of the program would include practically every phase of the company's activities. The average actually prepared for the Western crop this year, developments in the mining field, and in other directions, he felt, more than justified this vast expenditure on projects which bid fair to yield the shareholders a better return and at the same time stimulate Canadian industry and povide employment for many thousands of Canadian workmen.

In order to maintain Canadian Pacific service at its traditionally high standard, orders have been or will be placed, for equipment, and for the conversion and improvement of existing equipment to a total of $14,442,730. This equipment will include 10 baggage and express cars, 3 mail and express cars, 7 smoking coaches, 33 class coaches, 8 dining cars, 50 sleeping cars, 5 Glen type compartment cars, 14 parlor cars, 2 single room overnight sleepers, 2 gas electric rail cars for a total of $8,500,000, 250 coal cars, 250 freight refrigerator cars, and 50 ore cars for a total of $2,700,000, and service units and conversions for a total of approximately $5,300,000.

All these units will be built in Canadian workshops by Canadian workmen and as far as possible of Canadian material, thus constituting a substantial contribution to the prosperity of our industrial centres.

Improvements and extensions of far reaching importance are planned for the Canadian Pacific Telegraphs. More than $3,000,000 will be expended on this world encircling phase of Canadian Pacific activities. The expenditure, in addition to improvement to existing plant, provides for the completion of the carrier service and for long distance telephone and radio service in valous parts of Canada.

Canadian Pacific hotels from coast to coast will benefit by the 1930 program to the extent of $3,500,000.

It is also planned to start work on a branch line to run north-westerly from Crossfield for a distance of 30 miles and to connect the present line of the Lacombe and North-Western with the Calgary-Edmonton line. The grading will be carried on during the present line. In addition many of the branch lines which were placed under construction in 1929 will be carried to completion.

FIRST WOMAN IN EMPIRE TO BECOME SENATOR

Ottawa, Feb. 17.—With the appointment on Saturday of Mrs. Norman F. Wilson of Ottawa, a question of Dominion-wide interest, "Who will be the first woman Senator in Canada?" has been settled. The Upper Chamber now has a pioneer woman member as well as the House of Commons.

Shunning publicity, Mrs. Wilson spent very quietly in her own home at 192 Daly avenue the day following the conferring of the signal honor by the government.

Born into a political atmosphere and associated all her life with public affairs, she is well adapted by training for the position which has sought her. While she took no part in the suffrage for women movement, when the vote did come she applied herself earnestly and conscientously to the discharge of the duties of citizenship, and quickly was singled out for leadership.

Busy with other interests, she did not identify herself with the campaign for the recognition of Canadian women as "persons' 'and thereby entitled to seats in the Senate. Nevertheless, she is the first to enjoy the fruits and responsibilities of these efforts and those who know her best are assured she will devote herself faithfully and with marked ability to solving the problems which confront her in her new office.

Mrs. Wilson has a husband and rather heavy family responsibilities. Mr. Wilson is a former member of the House of Commons for Russell Country. There are eight children, ranging in ages from a charming debutante of last season, to a 4-year-old tot.

The new woman senator looks amazingly young to be the mother of a family starting to grow up—old enough for senatorial honors, but still on the sunny side of forty.

Above the average height, she has dark hair and very deep blue eyes, one of her striking features. Fine figure and carriage and ease of movement bespeak good health and plenty of exercise, and she is always dressed fittingly and with distinction, from the tip of her well-chosen shoes to the top of her becoming hat.

ROADS, BRIDGES IN ALBERTA TO GET 5 MILLIONS

Edmonton, Feb. 12.—A highway and bridge construction and maintenance programme, involving a total expenditure of $5,250,000 will be undertaken by the department of public works during the fiscal year, which ends March 31, 1931, according to appropriations provided in the annual estimates made public Wednesday morning.

For main highways construction alone, the sum of $2,000,000 has been appropriated by Hon. O. L. McPherson, minister of public works, this sum being $500,000 in excess of the estimate for the previous year and approximately $375,000 more than was actually expended during the year that ended March 31, ,929. District highways estimated expenditures total $750,000 as compared with $500,000 for the previous year and $390,125.69 actually expended in 1929.

Under the heading of secondary highway construction, the sum of $150,000 has been appropriated, which is the same amount as provided during the previous year. A total of $750,000 has also been appropriated for construction of bridges, this sum being $250,000 in excess of the estimate for the previous year.

All the appropriations outlined above will come from capital account.

Main highways maintenance under income account has been estimated at $960,000, which is more than $400,000 in excess of the amount estimated the previous year, and $525,000 in excess of the amount actually expended during the period of 1928-1929. Bridges and ferries maintenance will take an additional $135,000.

For the maintenance of district highways and local roads, the sum of $500,000 has been appropriated, which is exactly similar to the appropriation for last year but nearly $250,000 in excess of the actual expenditures during the year 1928-29.

Total appropriation of the public works department for the fiscal year amounts to $7,825,318, out of both capital and income account.

WEST WILL SEND DELEGATES EAST

Winnipeg, Feb. 14.—Prairie provinces will be represented at the Ottawa parley, March 11 and 12, to devise means of increasing bacon, butter, eggs and cheese production throughout Canada. Invitations were sent out from the Dominion department of agriculture to Canadian provincial governments. Due to legislatures being in session it is improbable that ministers of agriculture will go to Ottawa from the prairies.

Hon George Hoadley and Hon. Albert Prefontaine, ministers of agriculture for Alberta and Manitoba yesterday expressed strong approval of the purpose of the conference. Mr. Hoadley considered that some date in April would be more convenient for western representatives, but promised that an Alberta delegate would attend.

Mr. Sam Bidinger had the misfortune to lose a finger by way of the buzz saw last week. The unfortunate accident took place while he was helping to saw wood at J. D. Stewart's place.—Ponoka Herald.

WETASKIWIN DEFEAT TOFIELD 5-2 SCORE

The Wetaskiwin juniors displayed much improved teamwork in downing Tofield last Saturday.

The first period opened fast, but soon slowed down when Tofield bottled the whole Wetaskiwin team up in their own goal area. The locals were completely lost on the narrow rink, but put up a strong defence.

In the second period the Wetaskiwin boys changed their style of attack and soon showed their superiority. They were making rush after rush at the opponents cage and backchecking like fury. Near the middle of the period, Watson was right through on Bowick. He faked a shot and as Bowick dropped low to save, flipped a backhand shot which found the corner of the net. Score 1-0 for Wetaskiwin. Play was rough at this stage.

The third period brought out better hockey. Both teams were setting a fast clip. C. Greiner took a nice pass from Collett to make it 2-0 for Wetaskiwin. A few minutes later Farwell made a nice pass to Watson and Jimmy promptly made the score read 3-0 for Wetaskiwin. Tofield was fighting hard but the back-checking was so heavy they had little chance of scoring. The last period showed both teams in great form, with Tofield threatening. Collett worked through the forward line nicely and with just the defence to beat faked a pass, but went right past Glover. Getting in close, he shot in counter number four. Watson followed with another solo, which baffled the whole Tofield team. Score 5-0 for Wetaskiwin.

With four minutes to go W. Worton shot in a low one which Mel had no chance to save. Two minutes later he repeated the trick, making the core read 5-2 for Wetaskiwin.

Wetaskiwin well deserved the win. Mel. Walker in goal, was in great form and stopped many shots which were right on the goal. Great things may be expected of this youngster.

Watson on left wing, got three of the five goals made by Wetaskiwin. He was the most effective man on the ice. His shooting was right on and his stick-handling very tricky. We'll hear more of him in the hockey world.

Though the two above-mentioned players were outstanding, they were given grand support by every other member of the team.

Wetaskiwin—Walker; Collett, Merner; Larsen, C. Greiner, Watson. Subs—R. Greiner and Farwell.

Tofield—Bowick; Martin, Sevinton and Glover. W. Worton, S. Worton, R. Whyte. Subs—P. Thompson and R. Martin.

A banquet was given at 6:15 p.m. in honor of the visiting team. This was followed by a dance and everyone had a most enjoyable time.

GOV'T CONSIDERS SCHOOL TEACHERS SUPERANNUATION

Edmonton, Feb. 13. — The whole question of the superannuation of teachers is now being considered by the government, states Hon. Perren Baker, minister of education, in reply to questions put to him by C. L. Gibbs, Labor, Edmonton.

A conference of representatives of the three prairie provinces has already been held, the provincial auditor has been asked to advise on the actuarial soundness of the various schemes presented, and the government has conferred with other authorities where superannuation is in effect.

The board of reference established under the School Act was called in eight cases during 1929. In five cases, actions of school boards in dismissing teachers were not sustained.

A total of 3,484 teachers were trained in provincial normal schools in the last five years, of whom 766 were in training during the 1928-29 sessions. Seventy-five teachers were listed as unemployed, but of those it was expected that several have since secured schools.

Loans outstanding to students in training at provincial normal schools as at January 1st, 1930, totalled $241,984 and $5,455 interest.

SHAW'S MOTION TO REDUCE LICENSE FEES DEFEATED

Edmonton, Feb. 15.—By a vote of 42 to 5 the Legislature on Friday rejected the amendment to the budget motion, proposed by Joseph T. Shaw, K.C., Liberal leader, to the effect that during the fiscal year 1930-1931 the automobile license fees be reduced.

With the amendment safely out of the way, the House then returned to discussion of the original motion, proposed by Hon. R. G Reid, provincial treasurer and minister of municipal affairs, that the Assembly resolve itself into a committee to consider supply to be granted to His Majesty.

Government opposition to the Shaw amendment was directed by Hon. George Hoadley, minister of agriculture and health.

The Minister stated that, regardless of the extent to which the Government might find itself in sympathy with the subject matter of the amendment, members would be unable to support it, for in voting for it they would declare themselves as not being in favor of granting supply to His Majesty, with the result that an absurd situation would arise. In addition, he submitted, such an amendment was the same as a vote of non-confidence in the government. If Mr. Shaw had desired to discuss the question solely from the angle of a reduction in the auto license fees, he should have put forth his matter in the form of an original resolution.

The afternoon was notable for the contribution to the debate by several U.F.A. members. One of the notable speeches delivered thus far at the session was that of M. J. Connor, U.F.A. member for Warner.

Mr. Connor made a determined attack on the policy of admitting Mennonites. So long as they wanted to come here as individuals and "take pot luck like the rest of us," he did not care. He cared not what sort of clothes they wore, nor in what manner they cut their hair.

But the minute they sought special privileges; sought exemption from military service, asked the right to set up their own communities and to administer their own special schools, then he was going to object with all the vehemence at his command.

He registered a bitter complaint that the southern part of the Province had been invaded by Mennonites. He drew the attention of the House to an instance where 165 of them had been dumped down in Warner from two cars that bore a resemblance to cattle cars. They had taken possession of 15 sections of land, destroyed the buildings standing thereon, buildings good enough for anyone, then rebuilt on the colony plan and had refused to send their children to the schools of the district.

MIXED FARMING THE SOLUTION TO BETTER FARMS

Toronto, Feb. 6.—The day of mixed farming is here, said Sir Henry Thornton, chairman of the Canadian National Railways, in an address before exhibitors of the Canadian National Exhibition association, here, last night.

"We cannot reach the maximum of efficiency, unless we raise something besides wheat. Our land will deteriorate if our entire energy is given to that particular product of agricultural industry, and we must raise livestock, garden truck, poultry and other products."

HIGH DEATH RATE FROM ALCOHOLISM

New York, Jan. 29.—The death rate from alcoholism is almost six times as great in the United States as in Canada, according to the announcement by the Metropolitan Insurance Co. yesterday of the results of a survey made among 19,000,000 policyholders.

Deaths from acute and chronic alcoholism in 1929 were nearly six times that of 1928, the first year of prohibition, it is revealed. The rate for 1929 was 3.4 per 10,000, as against 3.3 in 1928. In 1929 641 policy holders died of alcoholism as compared with 599 the previous year.

The lowest mortality rate from alcoholism was recorded in prohibition's first year. The highest is 1929, when the rate was approximately twice that of 1918, the concluding year of the war.

The mortality from alcoholism, since national prohibition has not been quite as high as for any of the years between 1911 and 1917.

"The mortality from alcoholism has always been almost negligible in Canada, particularly in the Province of Quebec, where the Metropolitan has nearly 600,000 industrial policyholders, among whom there were only three deaths from the disease in 1929," says the company's report.

'Fresh from the gardens'

SPEAKING OF GUNS

Although Officer Fitzallen was only 27, he had been on the police force long enough to recognize a hunger case when he saw one. He also knew the symptoms manifested by a "just about ready to give up and go home to the country" case. He thought that the little girl in the neat but shabby dark-blue suit, the becoming but shabby dark-blue hat and the small, well-fitting but shabby dark-brown shoes was suffering from most of the symptoms of both of the maladies.

And when, after standing uncertainly on the curb for a few moments, she walked slowly over to him and, lifting her tired brown eyes so they looked up into his nice clear, blue-grey ones, said: "Will you please tell me where to find a store that sells guns?" he knew it was not only a case of the last days of hunger before giving up and going home to the country, but that in addition there were complications in the form of a touch of "what's the use of going on any longer?" combined with a suggestion of "why not finish all my troubles?"

"Guns?" repeated Officer Fitzallen, reaching out a protecting arm as a careening taxi threatened to make an immediate trip to any place but a hospital impossible for the slim girl in shabby blue.

"Guns? What kind of guns, miss?" asked Officer Fitzallen.

For a moment the girl hesitated, then answered in a weary little voice: "Revolvers."

"Oh, revolvers," remarked Officer Fitzallen in a blank tone which seemed to indicate that the word, though familiar, called up associations of but the faintest interest, then added brightly, as though a great light had suddenly dawned upon him, "Oh yes! Revolvers."

This time he actually took hold of the shabby suit sleeve to make sure that the clanging street cars rushing by at one side would not startle and confuse the girl to the point of causing her to shrink back into the path of rumbling trucks and whizzing taxis.

Stooping down so she might hear him in spite of the roar of the traffic, Officer Fitzallen said very distinctly, quite close to the brim of the becoming but shabby dark-blue hat, and, incidentally, quite close to an altogether too thin, altogether too pale cheek, over which blew a tendril of soft brown hair: "You said revolvers, didn't you?"

The becoming but shabby dark-blue hat nodded gravely. The small, well-fitting but shabby dark-brown shoes shifted uneasily — cardboard insoles aren't much of a cushion for cobblestones.

The Hunger Case knew, of course, that it was a crime to carry loaded revolvers about—she was commencing to wonder if perhaps it wasn't also a crime to make inquiries concerning such weapons, as Officer Fitzallen still held her by one thin, shabby-sleeved arm.

Suddenly a still larger uniformed man threaded his way through the maze of cars, stepped up to Officer Fitzallen, saluted him, then looked down curiously at the brown-eyed girl beside him.

"Young lady wants to know where to find a store that sells revolvers," explained Officer Fitzallen.

The taller man nodded knowingly and muttered something mostly unintelligible that seemed to be on the subject of hot soup. Officer Fitzallen nodded in turn, and grasping the shabby blue suit sleeve—and the pitifully thin arm — gently but firmly led the way back to the curb and along the sidewalk.

The girl's brown eyes widened with momentary panic. Evidently her fears had been with reason—it was a crime even to ask where revolvers were sold. Gently but firmly Officer Fitzallen piloted her toward a restaurant window, then, pausing, remarked untruthfully: "Sometimes I drop in here for a bite to eat on my way back to the station. Better come in with me and perhaps I can think of the name of a gun store."

For a very short moment the girl hesitated. After a three-week diet of crackers and milk, for the last week mostly crackers, one doesn't feel equal to being upstage even to a strange policeman, especially when the policeman in question has such nice blue-grey eyes, with little crinkly lines about the corners, and when there is so much good food in plain sight just the other side of a plate-glass window.

"All right," consented a rather limp little voice.

"And now tell me all about it, sister," suggested Officer Fitzallen, a few minutes later, from across the white porcelain-topped table. "You know, while there's life there's hope, but if you go and buy a gat and finish things that's the end of hope."

"Oh," exclaimed the not-quite-so-hungry girl in amazement, "I didn't mean that I wanted to buy a gun to shoot myself. I just wanted to find a store that sells guns so I could sell my own revolver to get some money to buy a ticket back to the country." As she spoke the girl opened her shabby, bulging handbag and taking out a gleaming $30 .38-calibre revolver of the very most approved police pattern, naively handed it across the table to the astonished Officer Fitzallen.

"Well, for the love of Mike!" exclaimed that good Samaritan.

"It's quite a good gun, don't you think?" asked the girl, eagerly. There was just a suggestion of pink in her cheeks — hot soup is really quite a marvelous beautifier when applied to hunger cases.

"Sure, it's a fine gun," replied Officer Fitzallen, "but it's a poor notion of yours to sell it for a ticket to any place. Why, there's a lot of nice suburbs right near Chicago that are just as good as real country. Now, for instance," continued Officer Fitzallen, gently but firmly piloting the not-so-hungry girl out of the restaurant along the sidewalk toward the police station, "there's the place where my sister lives. We'll just drop in at headquarters while I sign off for the day and then we'll hop on a trolley and run out to see Norah."

"Has she a garden, a real garden?" asked Brown Eyes wistfully.

"Sure she has," answered Officer Fitzallen, still holding fast to the little arm in the shabby blue sleeve as side by side the two young people climbed the worn stone steps of "headquarters." "Norah's a grand gardener. You just wait and see."

"Was Skinny and Tired. Now Peppy. Gained 11 lbs."

Thanks For Things As They Are

By CLARA HOPPER

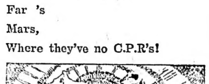

I went C.P.R.-ing
Over the prairie
Where flat things are flatter
Than ordinary,
Far things are farther,
Near things nearer,
High things higher,
Sere things serer.
Earth, a shorn sphere,
Went wheeling and whirling,
Twisting and twirling
Around to the rear;

Ethereal seas! how the old, wild breeze,
Fain, famished for trees,
Shrieked in seventeen keys!
Till I feared we'd be hurled
To some five-pointed world.
But the wind fell asleep
As the sky fell aflame;
And my fears fell away,
And the Past filled a frame . . .

I saw the lean Indian
Trudging and trailing . . .
I heard the dry River carts
Screeching and wailing . . .
I gave thanks I live now!
And here!—and how!—
And not on a star 's
Far 's
Mars,
Where they've no C.P.R's!

Ottawa, Feb. 17 (Special to The Times).—In the Northcliffe collection at the Ottawa Archives, one of the collections which immediately attracts the eye and the mind of the visitor is the section of books which belonged to General Wolfe. These books were presented the Dominion Archives by Sir Leicester Harmsworth, as part of the Northcliffe collection.

They are volumes which belonged to the library of General Wolfe when he was at Blackheath. Twenty-four volumes in the collection were among the books bequeathed to Col Guy Carleton by Wolfe's will, executed on board the Neptune June 8, 1759. They were taken to Quebec by Col. Carleton when he became Governor of Canada and some years later they were presented by him to Surgeon Major Connolly and through him found their way to Ireland.

CALGARY FOLKSONG FESTIVAL PLANNED

The third Great West Canadian Folkdance and Folksong Festival, organized by the Canadian Pacific Railway, will take place in the Victoria Pavilion, Victoria Park, Calgary, March 19 to 22 inclusive.

Similar festivals have been held in Winnipeg and Regina, and were outstanding successes, illustrating in no small manner the wealth of folkdance, folksong and handicraft brought to Western Canada by the various racial groups which are now being amalgamated into the Canadian nation. These festivals proved so popular that at the request of the premier of Alberta, the Canadian Pacific Railway decided to stage such a festival in Calgary.

HILLSIDE U.F.A.

The regular monthly meeting of the Hillside U.F.A. was held in the school house on Wednesday, February 12, there being a large turnout of members and visitors.

After the reading and adoption of the minutes of the last meeting, J. O. Harvey reported on the moving picture entertainment of January 15th, showing a creditable balance to turn over to the funds of the local.

Messrs. H. G. Young and E. R. Hoskins reported on debate with Verdun U.F.A. Local. It was decided to put this off until such time as we could go out to Verdun with cars.

The Secretary reported that Mrs. J. O. Harvey had been appointed by the U.F.W.A. to assist the U.F.A in the debate with Lone Ridge Local. Resolved: "That a better eduestion can be acquired by travelling than by reading." Messrs. H. G. Young and J. O. Harvey were chosen by the U.F.A. to make up the Hillside team.

Mr. H. Marr reported on the Old Time Social held on January 29th, everyone having a good time.

Owing to pressure of business, a letter from the Secretary of the Wetaskiwin regarding Convention to be held on March 19th, was tabled until next meeting, as was also a letter from the U.F.A. Central Office regarding a membership drive.

Mr. T. H. Howes then gave a splendid report on the annual Convention held in Calgary, which was followed by considerable discussion.

Mr. M. Dearing also gave an excellent report as visitor to the Convention, and offered some timely comments and criticisms.

Mr. H. G. Young reported briefly on the Convention.

Subjects for the projected debate between the Hillside senior Locals were now taken up, and the resolution, Resolved "That sex equality is a deterrent to social progress" was chosen. Mesdames Dowdell, Howes and Marr to uphold the affirmative, while Messrs. Dowdell, Howes and Hoskins take the negative. This debate, with a short program, is to be held on March 12th, and will be followed by a Hat Social. An interesting, instructive and amusing evening is expected.

Considerable discussion arose over the proposed visit of Mr. C. Axelson and it was finally decided to let him come on the understanding that the Local accepts no responsibility for the meeting.

It was decided to arrange for moving pictures on March 26th, also to ask Mr. Corbett of the Department of Extension, to give a talk on "Radio Education."

It was agreed to hold the next regular meeting in the school house on Friday, March 14th.

Don't forget the debate in the Hillside school on Wednesday, February 26th. Resolved "That beer parlors are a detriment to the people of this province."

The debaters who travelled to Gwynne on Friday, February 7th, say that judging by results, pushing a car through snow drifts is not conducive to good debating.

It even a few friends of The Times will only remember us from week to week in a little way, it will help amazingly to make this paper much newsier and therefore that much better from the real test of a paper, the subscriber's standpoint.

HILLSIDE U.F.W.A.

The February meeting of the Hillside U.F.W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. Thomas Howes, nine members and three visitors being present. The roll call was answered with "Thoughts on Themes from Great Authors." The usual business was transacted after which the delegate, Mrs. J. O. Harvey, and the visitor, Mrs. T. H. Howes, gave their reports of the convention held in Calgary in January. Judging by these splendid reports the local made no mistake in sending these two ladies to the convention. Mrs. Howes also gave a short talk on the dairy banquet, which she had the pleasure of attending.

At the close of the meeting, a delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Young.

The March meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. L. Swartz. Mrs. Harvey will speak on current events and Mrs. Ron Martin will give her first impressions of Canada. This will be followed by an informal debate. All ladies are welcome.

HILLSIDE JUNIOR U.F.A.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER BANQUET

(Cowded out last week)

The Rangers and Girl Guides together with their mothers, met in the Oddfellows' hall on Wednesday evening of last week and enjoyed a very sumptuous banquet provided by the mothers.

After the viands had been partaken of, a list of toasts were carried out under the supervision of Miss E. B. Walker and Miss Gwen Christie, Girl Guide leaders; Miss Christie acting as toast mistress.

A toast to the King was proposed by Miss Christie and responded to by the singing of God Save the King; a toast to the leader was proposed by Ethel Barnett and responded to by Miss E. B Walker.

A toast to "Mothers," was proposed by Margaret Finch and replied to by Mrs. Barnett; the toast to education was proposed by Rhoda Cook and Miss Laurence of the High School staff, replied in a very interesting manner. Miss Eva Walker then spoke on aims and views of the Guides and asked the co-operation of the mothers in forwarding this nation-wide organization.

The program was interspersed with Girl Guide sayings, after which a contest was put on by the different patrols and was won by the Forget-Me-Not Patrol under Estor Somers, who put on the Goofus School.

W. C. T. U.

The annual Frances Willard meeting of our organization took the form of a parlor meeting held at the home of Mrs. A. A. Ellis, Feb. 12th. The subject of the evening "Does Prohibition Prohit?" was taken by Mr. C. A. Morris, in his natal state of Kansas every sixth person owns an automobile, one conclusive proof of the progress of Prohibition. The classes in opposition there, as here and always, are the so-called best people and the down and out. The principal class on which the business and prosperity of a country depend, generally believe in God's law of justice, prohibition. As delegate to the Provincial Prohibition Association in Edmonton, the speaker gave some report of the ideas expressed, on the abolition of the beer parlors, and Ukranian Education, in which the W.C.T.U. is financially interested. The Ukranians are apt to look on pledge signing as an attempt to impose on their "personal liberty," but when understood as a mobilization of the temperance forces they readily change their viewpoint. Swift dealing, as in the case of the horse thief in early days was recommended for the bootlegger. Interdiction came in for criticism. The interdicted man is largely a prey for the bootlegger. The instructive and heartening address was listened to by a large and appreciative company.

The President was assisted in devotional exercises by Mrs. Sharlow, who gave the Scripture reading. Solos by Miss Buck and Miss Robinson added to the pleasure of the evening.

A social half hour was spent over the tea cups, Mrs. Ellis proving a most amiable hostess.

Catarrhal Deafness May Be Overcome

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are even just a little hard of hearing or have head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Inflamed nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone losing hearing or who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

Errors of Refraction and Muscular Imbalances

Are the chief causes of headaches, dizziness, blurred vision and that tired sleepy feeling.

Children often have a very unsatisfactory school report through defective eyesight.

A complete scientific examination will reveal these troubles.

Have your eyes examined today.
